

GRADES 9 – 12

2 PARTICIPANTS PER TEAM

6 HOURS

Captura is not like other photography contests. It's a test of your ability to react to what you see, be flexible with your art, and handle the unexpected. In a time when photography is often associated with carefully planned events, this event asks participants to find order and meaning in the unpredictable rhythm of a living space. It prioritises spontaneous reaction over planned composition, challenging photographers to abandon pre-set ideas. Do you have what it takes to reveal the beauty in the chaos?

CAPTURA—RULES OF PROCEDURE

The Briefing

- All teams must report to the designated room at the start time. Late arrivals may forfeit their turn to spin.
- Each team will spin a wheel that contains various pairs of themes. Each team will then receive 3 different pairs of themes (i.e. each pair will contain 'Theme A' and 'Theme B') [For example, Chaos and Focus]
 - The themes assigned to a team by the spinning wheel will be used for the entire event. No second attempts (re-spins) will be permitted.
- Teams must capture photos that match each of the three pairs and present them to the judges. [6 Photos in total per team]

The Fieldwork: Teams are given a strict 5-hour window to move around within the campus of the Bombay Scottish School, Mahim and capture the images.

Note: Certain areas and events will be off-limits to the participants. The exact locations will be communicated to the registered participants on the day of the event

Editing: Participants may use any editing software that they are comfortable with. However, they will have 1 hour to edit their photos and must report to their designated room for the one-hour slot. The use of any AI to support their editing will result in disqualification. Any editing that the participant engages in outside the allotted hour will not be considered for the final portfolio

Submission: Teams will submit a portfolio of 6 photos (3 pairs representing the themes) for judging. The selected photos should be submitted in the form of a Google Drive link, and all entries must be emailed to captura@bombayscottish.in. Any entry received after the deadline will be disqualified. Failure to provide viewing access to the file will result in penalisation.
