1.5 HOURS

Welcome to Gustatio, where gastronomy meets creativity and chaos meets cuisine. This is not your average cook-off; it's an unpredictable, high-stakes test of culinary skills as well as teamwork and strategy.

This event will challenge you to create dishes that not only taste good but also think metamorphosis — taking something and evolving it for the better.

GUSTATIO—RULES OF PROCEDURE

GENERAL RULES

- On the day of the event, all participants will be given a mystery ingredient on the spot. Incorporating this ingredient into the final dish is compulsory. They will also be given a mystery box with other ingredients.
- They will be given 2 minutes to discuss their strategy.
- Participants will take part in an ingredient auction where they may bid for special ingredients using cooking time as currency.
- Teams will place bids by sacrificing portions of their cooking time, with the final bid time being deducted from their total allotted time.
- Once an ingredient has been purchased by a team, it cannot be claimed or used by any other team.
- Sharing or exchanging of ingredients between teams will not be permitted.
- Participants will be given 2 additional minutes to discuss their strategy, after which the team will be separated. The total cooking time allotted will be determined based on the final time remaining after the auction round, including any deductions incurred during the process.
- For the first half of the event, one team member will cook while the other waits. At halftime, the members will switch and the second participant must complete the dish without receiving any instructions or communicating with their teammate.
